Q: Customizing a table-less app form to one with a table using Fluent nHibernate I have a static method to return a custom object (i.e., a custom class that is not inherited from NHibernate/SQL entities), from a custom table-less class (i.e., a static mapping between 2 custom classes). Normally the SQL table that stores these objects is connected using a table-less app form (for which I create a table mapping with NHibernate, and then I use the TableAttribute so that NHibernate can fill the rows using the table mapping). My new requirement is to retrieve a new custom class object from a table with some modified fields. That's what I have tried to do using some other classes: My new class: public class CustomerModification { public virtual int Id { get; set; } public virtual string UserId { get; set; } public virtual string Name { get; set; } } My mapping class: public class CustomerModificationMap : ClassMap { public CustomerModificationMap() { Id( x => x.Id ).GeneratedBy.Identity(); Map( x => x.UserId ).Column("UserId"); Map( x => x.Name ).Column("Name"); } } The code that doesn't work (this code generates the wrong SQL string): Type classType = typeof(CustomerModification).MakeGenericType( new[] { global::NHibernate.DomainModel.EntityBase.EntityBase() } ); //Constructor ConstructorInfo ctor = classType.GetConstructor( new Type[] { typeof(object) } ); //Set up the mappings (works) //Fluent NHibernate fills the rows using the mapping table //NHibernate creates "rows" table for us //The table uses the mapping table created by Fluent NHibernate to generate the SQL object obj = Activator.CreateInstance( classType ); CustomerModification mapped =

Q: Execute sp_msforeachtable with no @LogReplication from SSMS I'm trying to execute this query in MS SQL Server 2008 R2 Management Studio: EXECUTE sp_msforeachtable @command='select * from?' If I execute it on a database (which is empty for this purpose), I get errors: [Microsoft][ODBC Microsoft Access Driver] Syntax error (missing operator) in query expression '?=username'. So, I tried to execute it using a stored procedure. This is my stored procedure: DECLARE @sp_Name VARCHAR(200), @sp_Command VARCHAR(1000) SET @sp_Name = 'sp_GetAllTablesFromSomeDatabase'; SET @sp_Command = 'exec? EXECUTE sp_executesql @sp_Name, @sp_Command, N'@Database varchar(50) Is there any way to execute this query without errors? A: You just need to figure out the order of precedence of sp_msforeachtable and sp_executesql. Note that you can simply add an object name to a command in sp_executesql; you don't need a string for that. DECLARE @sp_Name VARCHAR(200), @sp_Command VARCHAR(1000) SET @sp_Name = 'sp_GetAllTablesFromSomeDatabase'; SET @sp_Command = 'exec? EXECUTE sp_executesql @sp_Name, 'select * from?'; -- pass the database name N'@Database varchar(50)'; -- also pass the table name I suspect you have a bug, though, in your EXECUTE statement. You should be able to fix this by changing it to something like: DECLARE @sp_Name VARCHAR(200), @sp_Command VARCHAR(1000) SET @sp_Name = 'sp_GetAllTablesFromSomeDatabase'; SET @sp_Command = 'exec? DECLARE @table_name VARCHAR(50) DECLARE @sql NVARCHAR(4000) = N'select * from?
