The most exciting aspect of “HyperMotion Technology” is that it captures the player’s dynamic behaviour in motion. For example, when a player has a complete aerial duel with his opponent, the technology will accurately gauge the successful outcome of the duel. For all types of close physical contact, the technology will capture the level of acceleration and the exact moment of impact. EA SPORTS RUMORS (March 15) have a pair of commentators set for 19:15 EST. Check out our new FIFA 19 Ultimate Edition Beta for a chance to score some sweet rewards. We’ll be back tomorrow to talk about all of this, and the release of FIFA 19 on March 19.
