Journal.Q: Dynamic combobox list with multiple selections using AngularJS I have a table of books, each book can have many chapters. I have to make a dynamic combobox (dynamic because of the chapters list) HTML : Select a book {{book.name}} And controller : $scope.selectedBook = undefined; $scope.books = []; $http.get('books.json').success(function(data){ $scope.books = data; }); This code works for a simple book list. I know how to make this dynamic, but just when a new chapter is added, I dont know how to bind this to the combobox... I hope someone can help me :D A: You should provide a function on the $scope, that is called whenever the new chapter is created, that can refresh the select list: $scope.bookAdded = function(data) { // Update the list of books and the selected book } Q: In drupal 7, how to get current user in a form or view? Im working with drupal 7 and im getting data from database and displaying it using fields. I want to display the fields of a node
